A Smart Woman

A sensational court case, revealing a story which suggests the Eva Mann-Hamilton case, is exciting a great deal of interest in Wilkesbarre, Pa. On the 27 h of July, 1889, J P Price, one of the leading citizens of Pitiston, Pa., died, leaving an estate valued at $30,000 The impression at the time was that Mr. Price was a bachelor. A short time after his death, howsver, a woman dressed in deep mourning called at the office of T. A. Martin, in Wilkesbarre, and represented berself as Price's widow. Mr. Martio, who had been grouted letters of administration on the estate, refused to believe the womac's story. He said Mr. Price had never been married. The woman then said she would take the case into court and prove there that she had not only been married to Price come, but twice. Lawyer Martin soil-fed his fiegers at the woman and said she muet be "slightly off." "Well, you'll find out whether I am off or not," she said, as she closed the office door behind her with a bang.

Friday the case came up for trial. The plaintiff said that her name before marriage was Susau Hauter. She furnished proof that she had been magicd to Price time, on January 12, 1870, at Lancaster, Pa, by Rev. M. J. Courin. Miss Hanter was then only 20 years old. She met Price at Harrisburg. After a short cours hip Price proposed matriage which proposal the witness said she accepted after being convinced that Price could give her a good home. The marriage did not prove a happy one, however. After two years Price deserted his young wife. The woman's relstives came to her rescue and Price was hau'ed into court. A separation was agreed upon, Price agreeing to pay his wife a stipulated sum weekly for her support. A year later a reconditation followed, and despite the fact that no divorce bad been granted but only separation, the two married egain. But again it was found that they could not agree and another separation ensued.

In 1874 Mrs. Price longed for a companion and meeting W. F. Baker she accepted bis attention. In July of that year they were married. Baker testified to this fact bimself. He also swore that he found it impas sible to live in peace with the woman, and left her. The next heard of her was that she had taken unto herself another husband in the person of Samuel McCard. This marriage took place to August, 1887. Baker now entered sait for divorce from the woman, which was granted.

In the meantime Mr. McCard had discovered that he could not live with the woman, and left her. Nothing more was heard of Susan until she appeared in the office of Attorney Martin and claimed Price's MEDICINAL.

When an infant my body broke out all over with an eruption or rash which became more aggravated as I grew older. Every noted physician in our section was tried or consulted. When I came of age I visited Hot Springs, Ark., and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S. S. S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was all gone, not a sign left; my general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease.
